New scheme will support parents of children with disabilities

BY JESSICA ODUBAYO

PARENTS with disabled children now have someone to share the worries and stresses of their lives thanks to a new befriending scheme.

The Face 2 Face service was launched last Thursday, May 28 at the Osmani Centre in Whitechapel, where parents and befrienders spoke about the difficulties of looking after children with special needs.

Run by disability charity Scope, the service is part of a national scheme which offers emotional support and practical guidance on the phone, online, or through home visits.

A spokeswoman for Scope said caring for a disabled child could be tough.

Alea from Bethnal Green, who has trained to become a volunteer befriender, described her shock when her one-year-old daughter, Khadijah, was diagnosed with a rare condition that can cause brain damage and sight loss.

"I was in complete shock. I felt numb," Alea said.

"It was like I was in a bad dream. It was a very difficult time for me and my family."

Khadijah is now four and also has epilepsy.

Alea said: "It can be very challenging looking after Khadijah. She has seizures every day and we never know when she will have them.

"When Khadijah was diagnosed, it would've meant a lot to have a service like Face 2 Face because, at the time, I didn't know anyone with a sight impairment and there were times when I needed to speak to someone who understood."

City Island home for national ballet centre

BY JESSICA ODUBAYO

EAST London's expanding arts scene is set to get bigger, with the announcement of plans to move the English National Ballet to a new neighbourhood overlooking Canary Wharf.

Property developer Eco World Ballymore launched the second phase of its London City Island development by announcing its partnership with the national institution.

The ballet company hopes to move to the specially designed centre – which includes rehearsal spaces where passers-by can watch the dancers through floor-to-ceiling windows – in autumn 2018.

The move will also bring the English National Ballet School under the same roof for the first time.

The development is a short distance from Canning Town and near Trinity Buoy Wharf, which is already home to a creative and arts cluster.

Tamara Rojo, artistic director of English National Ballet and English National Ballet School, said she wanted to push the company to the “forefront of excellence and innovation”.

“I want to create a new space that allows us to produce and rehearse amazing work,” she said.

“Not only that, I want a building that will be available for other artistic organisations to rehearse too, whether they are staging opera, musicals or theatre.

“I want the space to echo to the sound of creative Britain.”

English National Ballet is currently based in a 19th century mews in Kensington while the ballet school is in Fulham.

The second phase of London City Island includes 417 homes in two blocks and the 12-acre neighbourhood will include restaurants, shops and outdoor space for art and performances.

Tan Sri Liew Kee Sin, chairman of Eco World Ballymore, said: “We are honoured that English National Ballet – renowned for delighting audiences with world-class performances of classical ballet and inspiring them with the new – has chosen to call London City Island home.”

Cyclist pushed into canal

POLICE are appealing for information and witnesses after a woman was pushed off her bike into the Regent's Canal in Limehouse.

Officers said the 33-year-old had been cycling north along the towpath between Commercial Road and Salmon Lane on Thursday, May 21 at 7:30pm, when she noticed a group of five or six teenagers walking towards her.

She slowed down and, as she tried to pass, a female member of the group lunged forward and pushed her into the canal, along with her bike. A passing jogger rescued her from the water before alerting police.

The group ran away under the Commercial Road foot tunnel and over the Limehouse marine lock footbridge towards Limehouse DLR station.

They were described as Asian, both male and female, and aged between 16 and 18. The girl who pushed the cyclist had long dark hair and was wearing dark sunglasses.

Time for a borough bloom boom

BY SHALINA HUSSAIN

MOVE over Chelsea Flower Show, East Enders are having the chance to show off their own horticultural skills in the borough's annual gardening competition.

Tower Hamlets in Bloom rewards those who help to make the borough bright and beautiful.

From balconies, community gardens and allotments to patios, businesses and schools, the competition is open to anyone who makes the most of open spaces.

Organised by the council, it is part of a nationwide scheme to encourage people to become interested in plants, wildlife and the environment. The competition has been running since 1971 and is not just for experienced gardeners, but for schools, community organisations and novice gardeners alike.

There are several different categories and it is open to residents, businesses, community groups and schools.

To enter, simply fill in the form below in block capitals (remember to include your postcode). The competition will be judged throughout late June and early July.

Please note that all entries must be visible or accessible to the passing public, except for those in the allotment, wildlife-friendly garden and educational establishment categories.

The deadline for applications is Friday, June 12. For more information contact Sam Blewitt on 7364 4147.

A VOLUNTEER whose efforts have helped turn around the fortunes of Wapping Hockey Club has described the satisfaction of giving up his time for no financial reward.

Lawyer Stuart Burnside, 34, pictured centre with fellow club members, has volunteered at Wapping since joining in 2004.

He is now chairman, a post he decided to volunteer for because "I tend to believe it's put up or shut up if you have views on how you want things to be".

He told East End Life: "I would definitely recommend volunteering. The feel-good factor you get from improving things without seeking payment is great."

He added: "There's a lot of folk who like to portray Tower Hamlets as a borough of two halves who never help each other.

"Being able to defy that perception and deploy my business skills to have a positive effect on the wider borough appeals to my contrary nature."

Stuart, who lives in the borough, volunteers about 20 hours a week and says his biggest achievement has been a complete overhaul of the club's facilities and finances, which in turn has caused participation levels and on-pitch performance to "sky rocket". The club now has sponsorship deals and last season seven of the teams were promoted.

Can you give up your time?

FIND out how you can give back to the community and feel good about contributing to society.

Volunteers' Week is an annual celebration of the contribution millions of people make across the UK – taking place from June 1-7.

The council will be celebrating the work of volunteers at a series of events, including a special awards ceremony on Wednesday, June 17, at Idea Store Whitechapel.

Volunteers add tremendous value to the services the council provides in a variety of roles.

There will also be an exhibition at Idea Store Whitechapel (1st floor) promoting volunteer opportunities on offer throughout all of the Idea Stores.

To find out more about volunteering email ideastorecdt@towerhamlets.gov.uk or visit www.volunteersweek.org.uk

The council's integrated youth and community service will be hosting two celebratory events on Wednesday, June 3, at Wapping Youth Centre in Tench Street at 6pm and on Thursday, June 4, at St Andrew's Wharf in Britannia Road, E14 at 5pm.

Volunteers who have shown an outstanding commitment to their role will be recognised for their achievements and presented with certificates by the Young Mayor of Tower Hamlets, Deng Yan San. You can also find out about volunteering positions on offer.

Hard work of borough's volunteers to be celebrated

VOLUNTEERS who help make a difference in the borough will be thanked for their hard work as part of Volunteers' Week.

Volunteer Centre Tower Hamlets (VCTH) will hold an afternoon tea and seminar for volunteers during the annual national event, which runs this week and celebrates the contribution made by millions of volunteers across the UK.

It is also highlighting how it can help young people aged 15-19, and up to age 25 for people with special needs, to find suitable volunteering roles by offering one-to-one support and access to local opportunities.

Peppe Rella, communications

co-ordinator at the centre, said volunteering was ideal for young people who were looking for something to do in the summer, needed experience to put on their CV or for those wanting to start a professional career.

The centre, in Commercial Street, Spitalfields, also runs training sessions, helps organisations recruit and manage volunteers, and offers advice.

Help with quitting smoking

“Helping residents stop smoking is a huge priority for public health as you not only improve your health but that of people around you exposed to the toxins and poisons in secondhand smoke.”

DR SOMEN BANERJEE, DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC HEALTH AT THE COUNCIL

News in brief

Illegal tobacco is a risk to health

SMOKERS are being warned of the harm to people's health caused by the illicit trade in tobacco products, as part of World No Tobacco Day.

One in every ten cigarettes, and many other tobacco products consumed worldwide, are illegal, with criminal groups profiting from the trade.

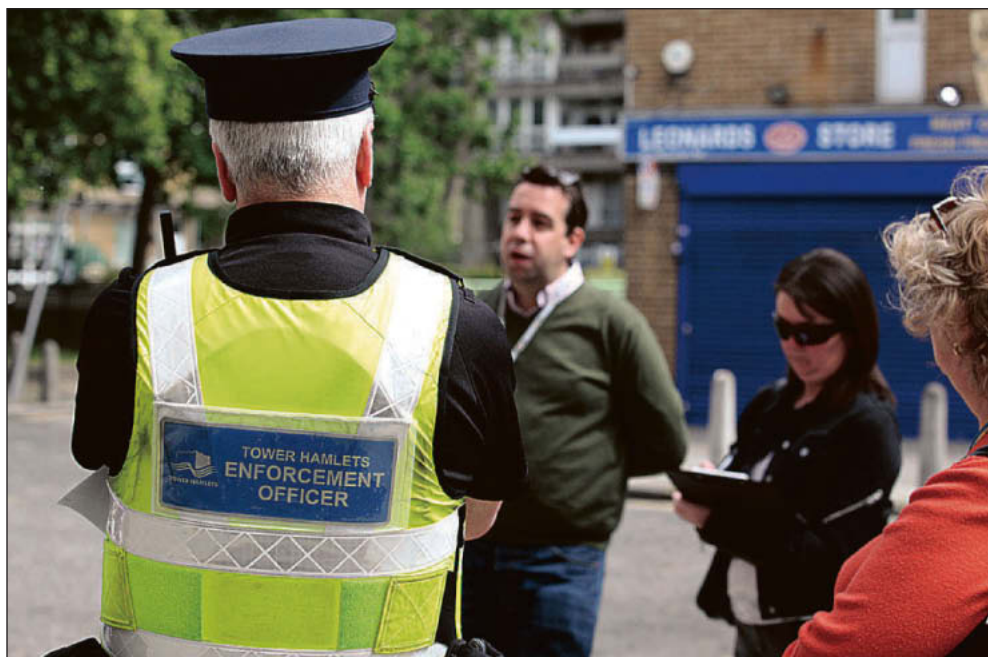

The council has a dedicated team that tracks down illegal tobacco and recently found one shop containing 1,704 packets of illicit cigarettes and 20 pouches of illicit tobacco, with a combined estimated sales value of £13,000.

Dr Somen Banerjee, director of public health at the council, said: “Cigarettes that are sold illicitly are not properly inspected and do not carry appropriate health warnings, which play an important role in increasing awareness of the health risks associated with smoking.”

Stop smoking services in Tower Hamlets are free and effective – more than 1,300 people quit tobacco over the past year with their help.

The most recent walkabout was held in Lansbury ward on May 22, visiting areas where ASB and crime issues have been reported, including Chrisp Street Market, Brownfield Street, Spey Street and Langdon Park.

Ward walkabouts

THE series of 20 community safety ward surgeries and walkabouts is drawing to a close with just two more to be held.

Led by the council's community safety team with the police, they have been held across the borough over the last few months to raise awareness of community safety and to hear about crime and anti-social behaviour (ASB) issues raised by residents.

The last two surgeries are: ■ Bromley North this Friday, June 5 from 9.30-10.30am – meet outside the chemist in Stroudley Walk, E3.

■ Bromley South on Friday, June 19 at the same time – meet at Rounton Road at the junction of Swaton Road, E3.

Keeping kids safe

CHILDREN'S safety takes centre stage this week, highlighting how accidents can be prevented among parents, carers and professionals.

The annual Child Safety Week, from June 1-7, is led by the Child Accident Prevention Trust to raise further awareness and help keep children safe.

Unintentional injury is a leading cause of preventable death, serious harm and acquired disability for children, particularly those aged between one and five years old.

This year's theme is injuries around teatime, focusing on preventing drowning and bath water scalds, road accidents caused by heavy traffic while rushing home from school and nursery, and burns and scalds caused by kitchen appliances.

Earlier this year the council introduced a 20mph speed limit across much of the borough in a bid to make the streets safer and deal with an increase in traffic volumes, cyclists, haulage vehicles and pedestrian levels.

Esther Trenchard-Mabere, associate director of public health at the council, said: “We know how busy parents and carers are and this week is a reminder of how best to keep children safe. There are simple things you can do ensure your child is protected from harm.”

For more information and free tips on keeping your children safe, visit www.capt.org.uk/safety-advice or NHS Choices at www.nhs.uk

You really should come and enjoy the countryside in the city.

If you'd like to experience us for the first time, or the millionth time, please join us for our annual Summer Fayre on Saturday, June 6, from midday to 5pm. It's free to enter, with small charges for some activities. You can learn more about the history of those buried here on a history tour at 2pm or discover our wildlife on a nature tour at 3pm.

Throughout the day you can try your hand at traditional woodland crafts, basket weaving, get your face painted, visit our many stalls, listen to music and enjoy singing from the British Humanist Association Choir. The East End Women's Institute will once again be serving their teas and splendid cakes.

We also have loads of other events and fun courses happening here all through the summer.

There's a lot to enjoy coming up, and here is a snippet of what you can expect. Join in a natural dyeing workshop on June 13, discover wild food and herb plants on June 14, and learn all about pollinators and plants on June 20. If art is your thing, why not get stuck into some art in the park on July 11 or join our botanical art session.

Full details and how to book, along with an option to download our full programme, can be found at www.fothcp.org

With all these fun courses here at the cemetery park, it's little wonder others want to have us do similar things for them.

The team at Victoria Park have asked us to run a number of events, delivering walks covering such themes as wild food, butterflies and mini-beasts, as well as a bush craft taster session. The walks start on June 13 with one all about the wonderful world of weeds and they continue running through the summer until August 6.

To book and find out more, please call 7364 4504.

Back here at the cemetery park we will be once again be hosting Shuffle Festival from July 24 to August 1 with the theme of movement, migration and place.

During the nine days of festivities you can visit us and enjoy film, science education, storytelling, performance art, architectural installations, walks, food, comedy and music—check out www.shufflefestival.com

We look forward to welcoming you over the summer. Please feel free to link up with us via our social networks which can be found using the handle FoTHCP. Alternatively, you can always see us here in the cemetery park, during office hours from Monday to Friday or give us a call on 8983 1277.

Final tribute to sailor William

A PROUD grandson made sure his late grandfather was finally honoured with a long overdue medal for his services at sea in the Second World War.

Midshipman Rob 'Reggie' Perren, who is a member of HMS President at Tower Hill, researched the service record of his granddad, Chief Petty Officer William Wallace, and found he had been originally turned down for the medal.

CPO Wallace, who died aged 48 in 1955, had served in the heavy cruiser, HMS Sussex.

After tracking down the ship's log, Mr Perren proved his granddad was eligible for a medal.

And last week the Arctic Star was presented to nine-year-old Joel Perren, CPO Wallace's great grandson, at the HMS President annual ceremonial parade.

Presenting the medal, Rear Admiral Clive Johnstone, assistant chief of Naval Staff, said: "It is wonderful that his grandson Midshipman Perren and great grandson Joel are here to receive it on his behalf."

He also presented awards and medals to other members of HMS President, the Royal Naval Reserve Unit based on the river near Tower Bridge.

Scheme will help women find jobs

Paid work experience offered in health and social care

BY SAM GOUGH

A NEW programme to help unemployed women get back into work has been launched by the council.

The first placements begin in September offering paid work experience and training within the health and social care sectors.

Unemployment among women in the borough is significantly higher than that of men and they may also face difficulties when returning to work if they have been out of the jobs market for several years.

When they want to go back, they often find that the skills employers need have changed.

To help tackle this, the council's Skillsmatch service has developed a programme that will see 100 women benefit from paid work experience placements—a mix of full- and part-time positions.

Training received in these placements will be accredited toward NVQ levels 2 and 3, and is designed to help women get a footing in the health and social care sectors.

The council has already begun working with health organisations about the placements to ensure participants reap the benefits of on-the-job skills, support and supervision.

The mixture of full- and part-time roles helps open up opportunities to women who have childcare or other caring responsibilities – one of the most common barriers for women returning to work.

Placements will be in sectors such as general health and social care; health visiting and midwifery; children's social care; nursing; child health, maternity and midwifery; and healthcare administration.

Everyone who applies for the programme will be offered support to enable them to focus on the next steps in looking for training or employment.

Aman Dalvi, the council's director of development and renewal, said: "Women in Tower Hamlets are more likely to be unemployed than men—and we're committed to tackling this.

"We designed this programme to break down some of the barriers blocking women from gaining employment.

"We're delighted that we've been able to secure these health care opportunities with some of the biggest employers in the borough."

Recruitment for the programme is already underway—to find out more or to apply, call Skillsmatch on 7364 0626.

Setting development standards

The Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS) sets standards for the learning, development and care of children up to five years old. All Ofsted-registered early years providers must follow the EYFS.

News

Childminders in Tower Hamlets follow the Early Years Foundation Stage and are inspected by Ofsted, like the borough's nurseries and schools.

Imani Turner, 25, from Bethnal Green, explains the benefits of being a childminder, and how they can offer children a wonderful start in life.

Looking after kids offers a very rewarding future

MY husband and I are registered childminders. It's a rewarding profession to be in, especially when your own children are young.

I want to be at home with my son as he grows up, so being a childminder means I can still run my own business.

There are a lot of legal requirements, but the council helps us keep up to date.

The training in the borough is very good and I know I can rely on them for advice.

We have to attend quite a lot of training – first aid, safeguarding, health and safety, food hygiene – things that are very important.

People don't think of childminding as a profession but looking after other people's children, and seeing them learn and develop, is a big responsibility.

We follow the Early Years Foundation Stage, just as they do in nurseries and schools.

Like other Early Years services, we get inspected by Ofsted. This means we have to provide lots of paperwork – insurance, policies, risk assessments, formative assessments and lots more. The paperwork is the only downside!

As a childminder, you have to make sure your home is welcoming and that you have the right resources.

It doesn't have to be expensive, although you have to be prepared to invest in a certain amount of equipment.

I became a registered childminder in July 2012 and was looking after my first child in August that year.

Parents can find me via the council website.

There are some great reviews from parents about what they like about me and my approach.

Imani with her son, Roman

I would only give my own child healthy, home-cooked food and that's what the children I look after also get. I let the children have either milk or water, not juice because sugar is bad for their teeth.

We enjoy going out and about to Victoria Park, the Idea Stores for their storytime sessions, the Museum of Childhood and the drop-in sessions at the Collingwood Children's Centre.

Childminding also means I can gain a degree. At the moment I am studying for one in graphic design. I plan to become a freelance designer, but I love being a childminder so much I think it'll be a patchwork career, with some designing and some minding.

Parents often tell me they want their child to socialise with other children, but they prefer a home setting – nurseries can be big and rather frightening when you are young.

A childminder can offer a more home-like environment while supporting children to be ready for school.

The bond between a childminder and the children they look after can be very strong and personal. This differs from a nursery where there are far more children.

I keep a learning journal for each child and the parents get to keep it over the weekend.

I also keep a daily diary that the parents take home each day. It has information about food, naps, trips and all the little things that happen.

■ If you are interested in becoming a childminder, or using one to care for your child, contact the council's Family Information Service on 7364 6495 or email fis@towerhamlets.gov.uk

A muse worth millions

Much of Bacon's work from the 1960s consisted of studies of George Dyer. The impecunious Cockney burglar was worth millions to the artist, and was rewarded handsomely.

History

Bacon's taste for rough diamonds

BY JOHN RENNIE

IT'S a fabulous story. The millionaire artist returns to his studio to find a cat burglar forcing an entrance through a skylight.

Rather than calling the police, the grand old man of Irish painting sits the young Cockney miscreant down, pours him a glass of decent red. The thief becomes the artist's lover and muse, inspiring many millions of pounds-worth of canvases.

Fabulous, and utter fiction, for Francis Bacon's skill with a brush was only matched by his facility with an anecdote... and never mind if it was a confection.

The Irish artist's first brush with George Dyer was, in truth, in a Soho bar, but it was a significant centrepiece in a triptych of encounters with East Enders from the rougher side of the tracks. For a man who was venerated everywhere he went, his genius constantly proclaimed, they made a refreshing change.

The first encounter was with the Kray twins. When Mr Justice Melford Stevenson sent Ronnie and Reggie Kray to prison in 1969, he famously opined that "society has earned a rest from your activities."

But at the height of the Swinging Sixties, London society loved flirting with the dark side. In the clubs of the West End, pop stars, painters, lords, ladies and career criminals mingled freely, though it was in Tangiers, Morocco, that Bacon bumped into the twins.

His appraisal was typically double-edged: "They were dreadful, of course, just killing people off and so on, but at least they were really different from everybody else – they were prepared to risk everything."

And when George Dyer entered the artist's life in 1964, seated at a Soho bar rather than emerging through a skylight, there was a taste of the same excitement.

Bacon confirmed the true story in a less mischievous moment, saying: "George was down the end of the bar and he came over and said 'You all seem to be having a good time, can I buy you a drink?'"

Dyer was 30 years old and had spent more years in prison than out. An East Ender who wore the immaculate Kray uniform of muscular form encased in black suit and tie, this tough exterior concealed a vulnerable man. Gay and from a chaotic, criminal East End family, he was looking for a home – and found it for a while with Bacon.

For Bacon, already in his mid-50s, the attraction wasn't merely physical. He delighted in George's debunking, often unconscious, of the art world. Dyer would match him drink for drink, while expressing loud astonishment that Bacon's works could sell at all, let alone for millions.

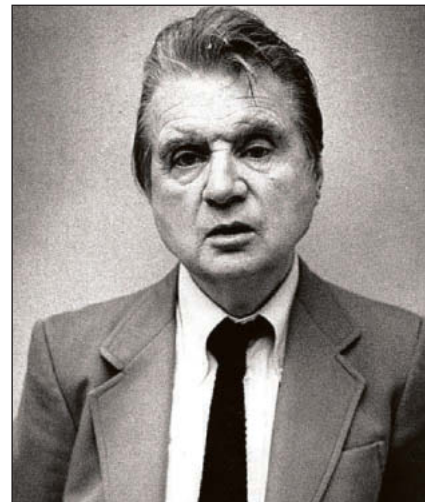

He also provided a muse for Bacon. Much of his work from the 1960s consisted of studies of Dyer. The impecunious Cockney burglar was worth millions to the artist, and was rewarded handsomely. He became a kept man and, from initially mocking the work, began proudly pointing out which paintings were inspired by him.

It was a relationship fatally unbalanced. The artist, while being a heroic drinker, also possessed a steely discipline. No matter how much booze he had consumed, he would rise early to paint. George, meanwhile, with no purpose but to be Bacon's foil, sank deep into alcoholism.

Bacon tried to sideline him, offering generous financial settlements. George became desperate. He called the police, ineptly trying to frame Francis for drug possession. And he attempted suicide on several occasions.

Eventually he succeeded. Insisting on an invitation to Bacon's retrospective at the Grand Palais in Paris in 1971, George found himself snubbed by the painter, who was consumed by arrangements for the show and interviews with the press. Two days before the opening, Dyer was found dead in his hotel bathroom, from an overdose of sleeping pills. Bacon went on with the show.

For Bacon the work always came first, but the guilt went deep. "If I'd have stayed with him rather than going to see about the exhibition, he would be here now," said Bacon years later. "But I didn't and he's dead."

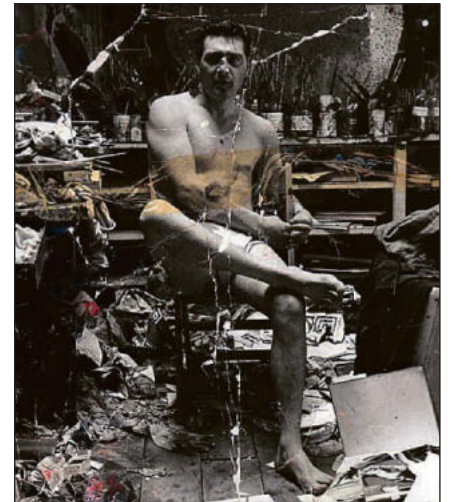

Hard to be a footnote in somebody else's life, but this "compact and chunky force of nature" found a place in history he never found while he lived. The Portrait of George Dyer Talking sold last year for £42 million.

The third part of Bacon's Cockney triptych arrived in Francis' life three years after George's death. John Edwards was one of six children of an East End docker, and in 1974 was working as a barman in Stratford's Swan pub. Muriel Belcher, owner of famous artists' haunt the Colony Room in Soho, was a regular at The Swan and told John that she was bringing a 'famous painter' pal to the pub, and asked him to lay in champagne. They never showed, and the pub was left with an expensive case of fizz (not a popular tippie with the regulars).

Weeks later, Edwards was himself a guest at the Colony Room, where he bluntly chastised the painter for not turning up. Bacon loved the lack of fawning and invited John to Wheeler's restaurant. The 25-year-old Cockney, dyslexic and unable to read, scanned the menu and ordered caviar. Weeks later, visiting Bacon's studio, Edwards was amazed to see a portrait of himself.

They quickly became inseparable, breakfasting together at Francis' South Kensington studio, where the painter would fry an egg – Francis eating the white, John the yolk. Forever more, Edwards would call his friend 'Eggs'. But if firmly yoked together, it was a very different relationship from that of Bacon and Dyer.

Edwards was a gay Cockney, and much more sensitive than his tough exterior would suggest, but he was also streetwise and robust. He made it his job to protect Francis from hangers-on. (Entering a bar, Francis would often produce £50 notes and demand drinks for everyone.)

When the two went gambling together, John would always ensure a handful of Francis' casino chips were hidden in his pocket, to ensure the artist didn't spend too much. And such was the trust that, in 1988, Edwards was deputed to represent Francis at an exhibition in Moscow. The Cockney barman had become a curious mix of muse, friend and agent.

Perhaps crucially, he hadn't become a lover. They insisted they were just pals, and John had his own long-term partner.

By 1992, when Bacon died, Edwards was living in a Suffolk farmhouse bought for him by his friend. He was devastated by the death but, inheriting the artist's entire £11 million estate (he was the subject of at least 20 of the paintings), set about organising things with his customary vigour.

The contents of the South Ken studio were given to Dublin's Hugh Lane Municipal Gallery of Modern Art, and he established a charitable foundation to promote the study of Bacon's work.

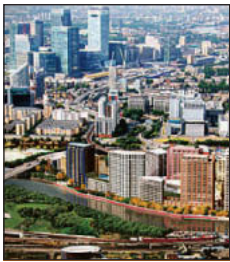

John Edwards died of cancer in 2003, at the age of just 53.

বিশ্বখ্যাত ইংলিশ ন্যাশনাল ব্যালে আসছে ইস্ট লন্ডনে

ইস্ট লন্ডনের ক্রমবর্ধমান শিল্পাঙ্গণ আরও সম্প্রসারিত হতে যাচ্ছে। বিশ্বমানের ক্ল্যাসিক্যাল ব্যালে নাচের প্রতিষ্ঠান ইংলিশ ন্যাশনাল ব্যালে (ইএনবি) আসছে ক্যানারী ওয়ার্ফের পাশে লন্ডন সিটি আইল্যান্ডে।

একটি আবাসন প্রকল্পের পার্টনার হিসেবে লন্ডন সিটি আইল্যান্ডে ইএনবি নিয়ে আসছে ক্ল্যাসিক্যাল ব্যালে নাচের মূর্ছনা। এখানে একটি অত্যাধুনিক রিহাৰ্সাল স্পেস ব্যবহার করবে ইএনবি, ফলে ব্যালে নাচের অসাধারণ ম্যাজিকে মুগ্ধ হওয়ার সুযোগ পাবেন পথচারীরা। একটি নতুন ব্যালে স্কুলও সেখানে প্রতিষ্ঠা করা হবে।

থ্রোপার্টি ডেভেলপার ইকো ওয়ারল্ড ব্যালিমোর লন্ডন সিটি আইল্যান্ডের উন্নয়ন কাজের দ্বিতীয় ধাপে বিশ্বখ্যাত জাতীয় প্রতিষ্ঠান ইএনবির সাথে তাদের এই পার্টনারশিপের কথা ঘোষণা করেছে।

পরিকল্পনা অনুযায়ী, ব্যালে নাচের রিহাৰ্সাল স্পেসের উইনডো থাকবে ফ্লোর থেকে সিলিং পর্যন্ত বিস্তৃত, ফলে পথচারীরা বিশ্ববিখ্যাত এই প্রতিষ্ঠানের ব্যালে নাচের ম্যাজিক-মুহূর্তগুলো উপভোগের সুযোগ লাভ করবেন।

প্রস্তাবিত ব্যালে নাচের নতুন স্কুলটি ব্যবহার করবে লন্ডন সিটি আইল্যান্ডের আউটডোর পাবলিক স্পেসগুলো, ফলে ইস্ট লন্ডনের অধিবাসীদের জীবন-স্পন্দনের কাছে পৌঁছে যাবে বিখ্যাত এই ক্লাসিক নাচটি।

উল্লেখ্য, লন্ডন সিটি আইল্যান্ডের উন্নয়ন কাজের দ্বিতীয় ধাপে ব্যালিমোর ১২ একর জমির ওপর দুটি ব্লক জুড়ে নির্মাণ করছে ৪১৭টি নতুন

ঘর। নতুন এই আবাসন প্রকল্পে থাকবে সেরা সব রেস্টুরেন্ট, শপ, খোলা রাখা স্থানে থাকবে পাবলিক আর্ট ও ডিজাইন প্রদর্শনী এবং ওই ওপেন স্পেসগুলোতে থাকবে সৃজনশীল বিভিন্ন উপস্থাপনার সুযোগ।

বাসিন্দাদের জন্যে আরও থাকবে একটি এক্সক্লুসিভ রেসিডেন্টস ক্লাব। সেখানে থাকবে স্ক্রিনিং রুম, জিম, এটেনডেন্ট সার্ভিস

এবং লাল রঙে বর্ণিত প্রাণবন্ত একটি সুইমিং পুল। বিশ্বনগরী শিকাগো, ম্যানহাটান ও টোকিওর ডিজাইনের আলোকে লন্ডন সিটি আইল্যান্ডের স্থাপত্যশৈলী তৈরী করা হয়েছে। এপার্ট-মেন্টগুলোর ডিজাইন করা হয়েছে লীমাউথের ইতিহাস ও ইস্ট লন্ডনের সৃজনশীল চেতনার আলোকে।

Less than two weeks until Stepney Green ward and mayoral elections – 1061

১১ জুনের নির্বাচনে ভোটাধিকার প্রয়োগের আহবান

১১ জুন টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটসের মেয়র ও স্টেপনী গ্রীন ওয়ার্ডে একজন কাউন্সিলার পদের নির্বাচনে ভোটাধিকার প্রয়োগের জন্যে বারার বাসিন্দাদের প্রতি আহবান জানানো হয়েছে।

নির্বাচনের আর দু সপ্তাহও এখন বাকি নেই। বারার বাসিন্দা যারা এরই মধ্যে ভোটার হিসেবে রেজিস্টার্ড হয়েছেন, তাঁরা সকলেই এর মধ্যে অফিসিয়াল পোল কার্ড পেয়ে যাওয়ার কথা। কখন, কোথায় এবং কিভাবে ভোট দিতে হবে, পোল কার্ডে সে সম্পর্কে সবকিছু বলা আছে।

আপনি যদি পোল কার্ড হারিয়ে ফেলেন, তাহলে কাউন্সিলের অনলাইন পোলিং স্টেশন ফাইন্ডারের সাহায্যে আপনার নির্দিষ্ট পোলিং স্টেশন সম্পর্কে জেনে নিতে পারবেন। এজন্যে ভিজিট করুন: www.towerhamlets.gov.uk/vote অথবা ফোন করুন ইলেক্টোরাল সার্ভিসেস হেল্পলাইনে-০২০৭ ৩৬৪ ০৮৭২ এই নাম্বারে।

নির্বাচনী প্রক্রিয়ার গ্রহণযোগ্যতা নিশ্চিত রাখতে টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস কাউন্সিল, পুলিশ ও ইলেক্টোর-

াল কমিশনের সাথে একযোগে কাজ করছে।

নির্বাচনে কোন রকমের জালিয়াতির বিষয়ে আপনার কোন উদ্বেগ থাকলে রিপোর্ট করুন: THElections@towerhamlets.gov.uk – এই ইমেইলে।

কি করে ভোট দিতে হবে

১১ জুন সকাল ৭টা থেকে রাত ১০টা পর্যন্ত পোলিং স্টেশনসমূহে ভোট নেয়া হবে। আপনার পোলিং স্টেশন কোথায় তা আপনার পোলিং কার্ডে উল্লেখ থাকবে। আপনি যদি ইলেক্টোরাল রেজিস্টারে তালিকাভুক্ত থাকেন, তাহলে ভোট দিতে আপনার পোলিং কার্ডের প্রয়োজন পড়বে না, পোলিং স্টেশনে গেলে স্টাফরা আপনাকে এ ব্যাপারে সাহায্য করবেন।

মেয়র পদের নির্বাচনে আপনার ভোট দুটি। একবার আপনি ভোট দিতে পারবেন আপনার ফার্স্ট চয়েস ক্যান্ডিডেটকে এক নাম্বার কলামের বক্সে ট্রাস চিহ্ন দিয়ে। দ্বিতীয় ভোটটি আপনি দিতে পারবেন আপনার সেকেন্ড চয়েস

ক্যান্ডিডেটকে দুই নাম্বার কলামের বক্সে ট্রাস চিহ্ন দিয়ে।

সেকেন্ড চয়েস ভোট দেয়ার কোন বাধ্যবাধকতা নেই, তবে ফার্স্ট চয়েস ভোট না দিলে আপনার ব্যালট পেপার গণনা করার সুযোগ নেই। একই ক্যান্ডিডেটকে আপনি দুবার ভোট দিলে আপনার সেকেন্ড চয়েস ভোট গণনায় ধরা হবে না।

শুধুমাত্র স্টেপনী গ্রীন ওয়ার্ডের বাসিন্দারা এই ওয়ার্ডের একজন কাউন্সিলার পদের নির্বাচনে ভোট দিতে পারবেন। এই পদে কেবলমাত্র একজন ক্যান্ডিডেটকে ভোট দিতে হবে। আপনার পছন্দের ক্যান্ডিডেটের নামের পাশের বক্সে ট্রাস চিহ্ন দিয়ে ভোট দিন।

রাত ১০টায় ভোট গ্রহণ শেষ হওয়ার পর ভোট গণনা শুরু হবে এবং তা শেষ হওয়ার পর রিটার্নিং অফিসার টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটসের মেয়র ও স্টেপনী গ্রীন ওয়ার্ডের কাউন্সিলার পদে নির্বাচিতদের নাম ঘোষণা করবেন। কাউন্সিলের ওয়েবসাইটেও নির্বাচনী ফলাফল প্রকাশ করা হবে।

আপনার ভোট অন্য কারও হাতে ছেড়ে দেবেন না

আপনার ভোট অন্য কারও হাতে ছেড়ে দেবেন না বা নির্দিষ্ট কোন পদ্ধতিতে ভোট দেয়ার জন্যে আপনার ওপর চাপ সৃষ্টির কোন সুযোগ অন্য কাউকে দেবেন না।

পোলিং স্টেশনে গিয়ে ভোট দিলে আপনাকে অবশ্যই ক্লার্কের কাছ থেকে ব্যালট পেপার সংগ্রহ করতে হবে, এরপর একটি পোলিং বুথ গিয়ে গোপনীয়তা রক্ষা করে ভোট দিতে হবে। আপনার ব্যালট পেপার আর কারও হাতে দেবেন না এবং আইন অনুযায়ী প্রাপ্তবয়স্ক আর কেউ আপনার সাথে পোলিং বুথে যাওয়ার কথা নয়।

আপনি পোস্টাল ভোটার হয়ে থাকলে পোস্টাল ভোটিং স্টেটমেন্ট ও ব্যালট পেপার নিজে প্রস্তুত করুন, কমপ্লিট করা ডকুমেন্টগুলো এনভেলোপ বি-তে ভরে তা পোস্ট করে দিন দ্রুত।

আপনার পক্ষে কমপ্লিট করার জন্যে ব্যালট পেপার বা পোস্টাল ভোটিং প্যাক অন্য কাউকে কোন অবস্থাতেই দেয়া যাবে না।

Anti-fraud measures

১১ জুনের নির্বাচন উপলক্ষে ভোট জালিয়াতি রোধে যে কঠোর ব্যবস্থা নেয়া হচ্ছে, এ পর্যন্ত যুক্তরাজ্যে তার প্রয়োগ হয়েছে খুব কমই। টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস কাউন্সিল, পুলিশ ও ইলেক্টোরাল কমিশন যৌথভাবে পুরো নির্বাচনী প্রক্রিয়ার সকল স্তরেই সব ধরনের প্রতারণা ঠেকানো ব্যবস্থা নিয়েছে।

নির্বাচনের দিন সকল পোলিং স্টেশনে পুলিশ জটলা পাকাতে দেয়া হবে না। ভোটারকে বাধা দেয়া ঠেকাতেও কড়া পুলিশী নজর থাকবে। ভোটাররা যেন সহজে ভোট কেন্দ্রে গিয়ে নির্বিঘ্নে ভোট দিতে পারেন, সেটা নিশ্চিত করাই এসবের উদ্দেশ্য।

রিটার্নিং অফিসারের কাছে নির্বাচনের বিষয়ে দাখিল করা সকল অভিযোগ সম্পর্কে পূর্ণাঙ্গ তদন্ত করে দেখা হবে এবং অভিযোগের প্রতিকারে ব্যবস্থা নেয়া হবে।

আসন্ন নির্বাচনে জালিয়াতির সম্ভাবনা সম্পর্কে উদ্বেগ থাকলে ইমেইলে রিপোর্ট করুন:

Barts Heart Centre will save thousands of lives say

A new chapter in cardio care

BY NINA WARHURST

THE new Barts Heart Centre is up and running, with world-class facilities which staff say will help save thousands of east Londoners' lives.

The London Chest Hospital in Bethnal Green closed in April, with services and some staff being transferred over. Barts now offers 250 beds for specialist cardio care and an intensive care unit where there are eight nurses for every patient.

Charles Knight, the senior surgeon and clinical director who oversaw the transition, said: "I loved the chest hospital dearly, but this has been a five-year journey to combine services and provide much more in-depth care. There are specialists in every area on call 24/7. I am very excited for patients. This is the most significant thing that has happened in my 35-year career."

"This is the most significant thing that has happened in my 35-year career."

Barts is now the UK's largest heart centre, and facilities include ten theatres, and ten catheter labs, where experts can analyse arteries. Staff expect to perform more heart surgery than at any other centre in Europe.

One of the first to have a heart bypass at the new site was Barbara Boswell.

"It's sumptuous, isn't it?" said Barbara, 82.

"I loved the nurses at the chest hospital, but they are excellent here too. And it's so modern and pristine. I like that there are support railings everywhere, so I always feel safe."

Mr Knight added: "It was sad to say goodbye to the chest hospital, but one big site can offer much better care than two medium sites."

More than 80,000 patients are expected to pass through over the centre's first year,

On the frontline against disease and the scourge of Nazi bombers

THE London Chest Hospital was opened in the mid-1800s at a time when tuberculosis was rife in the East End and was responsible for about a fifth of all deaths.

A group of City merchants and bankers held a meeting in 1848 to discuss setting up a hospital.

By the following year, the organising committee had taken the lease on a site on Bonner's Field, in Bethnal Green, next to the newly laid-out Victoria Park.

This enabled patients to benefit from 'open air' treatment and they were encouraged outside into the park-side grounds.

During the First World War, soldiers suffering from the effects of chlorine and mustard gas, used as weapons in the trenches of the fields of Flanders, were brought home to be treated at the London Chest Hospital.

Others had developed tuberculosis, pneumonia or bronchitis in the terrible conditions on the frontline but all mostly benefited from the 'treatment' of fresh air and rest.

In the Second World War, the hospital did its bit once more, with half the beds given to victims of air raids.

It also suffered its own casualties – during the Blitz, in 1941, the Luftwaffe destroyed the hospital chapel and the nurses' home.

When the NHS was formed in 1949, the London Chest joined forces with the Brompton in west London, formerly the Hospital for Consumption and Diseases of the Chest.

Antibiotics started to be used to treat TB effectively, enabling the Bethnal Green hospital to develop other specialist units for cystic fibrosis and heart attack patients.

In recent years it famously treated Bolton Wanderers footballer Fabrice Muamba after he collapsed on the pitch at White Hart Lane in 2012.

David Beckham's father, Ted, was also cared for at the hospital, in 2007.

The London Chest eventually became part of Barts Health NHS Trust, alongside Barts and the Royal London, and its future now lies at the heart of what is the largest health trust in the country

Jobs help at Idea Stores

NEXT time you take out a book at Idea Store Crisp Street or Whitechapel, why not find out what your options are by visiting an employment adviser?

Skillsmatch, the council's award-winning service which helps businesses across London recruit staff from the borough, now has advisers at both of the venues.

Residents can speak with the experienced advisers to help in their search for work.

Other services provided by Skillsmatch include:

- skills that employers want
- advice on job hunting
- help writing a CV or job application
- interview preparation.

Aman Dalvi, the council's director of development and renewal, said: "By locating employment advisers in these Ideas Stores more local people can access the skills training and job opportunities available.

"The council has a huge range of advice services to offer and this initiative will help support even more people on their journey towards getting work."

Tower Hamlets' employment rate is the highest it has been since recording began in 2004.

The figures, provided quarterly from the Annual Population Survey, show that 68.1 per cent of the borough's working population is in employment.

The flower that keeps on giving

"The English garden is incomplete without one or possibly many roses. These plants really just give and give, and with minimum fuss. They are a must-have in any horticultural situation."

An end to surprise fees

Legislation for agents' fees is in Part 3 – Duty of Letting Agents to publicise fees – of the Consumer Rights Act 2015.

SEE STORY BELOW

Property

New law on letting fees

Agents must publish all charges

BY STEFAN SWIFT

TENANTS will no longer be hit by surprise charges under new legislation requiring all letting agents to publish their fees.

The council is asking agents to make sure all fees, charges or penalties for landlords or tenants for letting and property management works are publicised.

They need to provide a comprehensive list of everything that a landlord or a tenant would be asked to pay before, during or after a tenancy.

The legislation states that a list of fees must be clearly on view at the agent's premises, anywhere that the agent deals face-to-face with customers or on a website if they have one.

Ill-defined terms such as 'administration cost' must not be used and the list of fees must be comprehensive. There should be no surcharges or hidden fees and all costs must include tax.

Where a fee cannot be reasonably determined in advance, the list should describe how a cost is finally calculated.

The council's trading standards team is planning to visit all agencies over the next 12 months to check compliance.

For details call 7364 5008 or email tradingstandards@towerhamlets.gov.uk

AN unused rooftop space at a charity in Spitalfields has been transformed into a garden where homeless people can relax and take part in a gardening training scheme. Crossrail contractor BBMV worked with Providence Row to deliver the garden aimed at supporting homeless people in east London. The company, which is responsible for the construction of Crossrail's new Whitechapel and Liverpool Street tunnels, donated £30,000 seed funding for the project and provided management support, specialist volunteers and equipment. Providence Row chief executive Pam Orchard said the garden had made a tangible difference to the charity. Nigel Russell, BBMV executive project director, said: "We hope the urban garden space will provide homeless people with the opportunity to gain skills and experience."

Jobseekers sharpen skills at jobs clinic

JOBSEEKERS in Bow had the chance to sharpen their interview skills and build their confidence at a jobs clinic.

Social housing landlord Circle Housing Old Ford teamed up with City and Guilds Group to run the workshops at Eastside Youth and Community Centre on May 15.

They were organised as part of Give and Gain Day, a global celebration of the power and potential of employee volunteering.

Rosie Hewson, training and employment manager for the housing association, said: "We are committed to helping our residents get back to work and providing them with the right tools to make this possible."

From miniatures to climbers, there's a rose for every garden

Plant of the Month from the Horticultural Trades Association

COMPLETE your garden this summer with a beautiful rose, one of the most popular garden plants.

There is a rose for every garden, from hybrid teas to miniatures, climbers to floribundas, the choice is endless. They can be large or small, contemporary or traditional, and boast both fragrance and colour.

As a perfect addition to any garden environment, and being relatively easy to grow, the rose is an ideal plant to make the most of your outdoor space.

There are varieties for planting in flowerbeds, borders and planters, as well as for walls and pergolas.

Companion plants worth trying include:

■ Lilium regale hybrids – a perennial to 2m in height, with large, fragrant, trumpet-shaped white flowers that are yellow in the centre and flushed with purple on the outside.

■ Nepeta Six Hills Giant – a perennial forming a clump of aromatic, grey-green leaves, with lavender-blue flowers in spikes.

■ Lavender Munstead – a compact variety of English lavender with masses of dark purple-blue flower spikes.

Its fragrant stems are ideal for cutting or drying, and the nectar-rich flowers are particularly attractive to bees.

■ Philadelphus Beauclerk – a deciduous shrub, with ovate leaves and short racemes of fragrant, single white flowers, with a purplish zone near the centre.

Permit Transfer Scheme: for residents moving to 3 bedroom or larger social rented car free homes

The Mayor of Tower Hamlets introduced the new Permit Transfer Scheme (PTS) to operate from 5 September 2011 to help to reduce the levels of overcrowding in social rented housing in the borough. The PTS helps some families move to larger social rented car free homes by allowing them to retain one on-street resident car parking permit, subject to the PTS criteria as outlined below being met. The PTS is a change in the operation of the Council's existing on-street Residents' Parking Permit Scheme.

CAR FREE HOMES No on-street residents' parking permits issued

The Council's 'car free homes' planning policy was introduced in Tower Hamlets in the late 1990s to help reduce traffic congestion and better manage the limited supply of on-street parking spaces. This initiative also helps to reduce the level of air pollution from motor vehicles and encourages more people to walk, cycle and go by public transport.

The Transport for London (TfL) Cycle Hire scheme (www.tfl.gov.uk/cycling) and local pay-as-you-go car clubs (www.carplus.org.uk) are also now available in Tower Hamlets to help you get around in healthier, greener ways.

If you live in a car free home, you will not be able to apply for on-street residents' car parking permits, unless you hold a disabled driver's blue badge or are eligible under the Permit

Transfer Scheme (PTS), which is targeted at social rented housing residents. The criteria for the PTS is as follows:

1. applies to residents moving to 3 bedroom or larger social rented car free homes;
2. only one on-street resident parking permit per household is permitted;
3. you must have held your on-street car parking permit for at least 1 year prior to moving home;
4. your on-street parking permit must be renewed and not lapse to remain eligible under the scheme;
5. the tenant is responsible for providing proof of PTS eligibility to Parking Services (including a duly signed and dated Tower Hamlets Homes or housing association approved tenancy agreement); and

6. the PTS was introduced on (and operates from) 5 September 2011 by Tower Hamlets Council and is not retrospective.

Residents in car free homes can apply for a temporary parking permit for visiting trades people for £5 a day. To qualify, written proof of the work to be carried out must be provided, along with the vehicle's details. Each home can apply for a maximum of 20 one-day-permits within a 6 month period.

Alternatively, scratchcards are available for trades people and visitors, providing parking for up to five hours on weekdays and all day on weekends. Households can apply for up to 3 books of 10 scratchcards per year. For permit charges and information, visit www.towerhamlets.gov.uk/parking

AS part of I'll Fight Day 2015, the Salvation Army Stepney and Stepney Football Club played a series of fun-filled matches at Stepney Green Park.

I'll Fight Day was an opportunity for young people to go out into their communities and build relationships in practical ways.

Captain Nick Coke, co-leader of the Salvation Army Stepney, said: "William Booth founded the Salvation Army in Whitechapel 150 years ago.

"Being able to join with Stepney FC was great fun and a reminder that loving your neighbour involves building community relationships that will last."

Wapping win cup

■ WAPPING Youth won the London County Saturday Youth Football League under-21 KO Cup, beating Warsa FC 4-2 on penalties after the game ended 3-3 in extra time.

Watersports

TOWER Hamlets will be chasing glory on the water this weekend as they attempt to dethrone defending champions Richmond in the Thames Water London Youth Games Regatta.

Youngsters will converge on the London Regatta Centre at Royal Albert Dock on Saturday for rowing, kayak slalom and kayak sprint.

A sailing regatta at King George V Reservoir in Lee Valley on June 20 and 21 will complete the competition.

■ SHADWELL Sailing Centre has two events coming up this month for adults who enjoy the outdoor life.

On June 13 there is adult kayaking—a fun introduction to kayaking and canoeing in Shadwell Basin.

There is also adult climbing on the high ropes the same day. Both sessions have ten available places, which must be booked by June 11.

■ OLYMPIC rowing champion Mark Hunter (pictured), who started his career at Poplar Blackwall & District Rowing Club, was given a Lifetime Achievement award by the University of East London at a ceremony on May 22.

It will feature some of Britain's top cyclists battling it out to be crowned the best in the UK.

Muay Thai

BETHNAL Green's rising Muay Thai star, Greg Wootton, gave further evidence of his potential with a one-sided points win over Thailand's Rungrat Sasiprapa at the Barclaycard arena, Birmingham.

Super-lightweight Wootton, holder of the World Muay Thai Council MAD title and the Enfusion world belt, chalked up his 30th win against a fighter plugged as the new golden boy of the sport.

Wootton trains under Bill Judd at the KO Gym in Bethnal Green.

Johnson lands a European double

BY PETER FAULKNER

JOHNNY Johnson etched his name into Repton's hall of fame last year when he became the first boxer from the Bethnal Green club to win a European junior title.

Now he has further enhanced his reputation by taking a second European belt, after winning four out of four bouts in Lviv, Ukraine.

Johnson's success came on the same weekend a record 13 boxers from the club made it through to the finals of the English Schools championships.

Johnson (pictured), who was joined in Ukraine by club-mates Tommy Roberts and Jesse Dean Harris, won all of his four contests on points.

His final win over local boy Artem Lapin was particularly impressive, earning a unanimous decision from the judges.

Roberts enjoyed a technical knockout and a points success in his first two fights, but then dropped the verdict in his third to local boxer Andrii Matiash.

Harris failed to get past the first round losing a points decision to Ireland's James O'Reilly.

Meanwhile in Bristol, the schools programme was hotting up and Repton, as East End Life went to press, were hoping to beat last year's return of eight winners.

They have 13 in the finals at Sheffield including four walkover winners – Charlie Hickford, Caleb Eastwood, Levi

Lee and George Ellis.

Best of the rest was Jack Oliphant, who stopped Tony Ward (Trumpington) in the last round.

The remaining boxers all won on points.

Barney Docherty beat Shaun Clark (The Ring), David Tierney beat Jack Wiffin (Sudbury) and Freddie Moss defeated Sonny Hardy (Chalvedon).

There were unanimous wins for Nathan Harris over Jordan Davis (Windrush Valley), George Mitchell against Mosey Buckley (Allcorners), Adam Mohammed against Quey Maloney (Chadwell), Vinnie Driscoll over James Anderson (The Ring) and Dennis McCann against Reuben Barney-Smith (Pinewood).

Unluckiest of the losers was Rohan Decurdo who seemed to have done enough to get the verdict against Jimmy Doran.

Joseph Inman, Harvey Smith, Joseph King and Liam Deighton were all beaten on points.

Sawyer is back in action

Wapping ladies B o, Waltham Forest o

ELLIE Sawyer, after a two-season absence, returned to the action in this Summer League clash with Waltham Forest.

And her determined defensive performance was one of the highlights of a o-o draw.

The game started slowly with neither side gaining the upper hand.

Wapping were strong at the back with the return of goalkeeper Carla Laws, but when the side managed to work their way through to Forests' D, strikers Emma McCready and Laura Reedjik had a couple of opportunities but failed to score.

Wapping men B 2, Crostyx 1sts 2

THIS top-of-the table clash was always going to be tough, especially with Wapping fielding only one recognised defender.

Crostyx broke the deadlock with a shot from a short corner.

Within minutes Wapping levelled through Tom Hammond and, when Crostyx took the lead with five minutes remaining, they must have thought they had sealed victory.

But Wapping won a short corner and Charlie Ballentine stepped up and struck an equaliser.

■ WAPPING men's A team played well against Redbridge and Ilford despite losing 1-0 early in the first half.

City and Wharf Hockey League

THE conclusion of the final three pools in phase one of the City and Wharf Hockey League at Mile End saw Deloitte go top of Group 4 beating Morgan Stanley 7-1 with goals from Graham Cox, 3, Euan Jones, 2, Nikki Jones and Hephzi Bayliss. Tom Oliver replied for Morgan Stanley.

Over at John Orwell Sports Centre, it was a good night for Wapping Hockey Club, as their Privateers side beat Arup 4-0 – Jeremy Gould, Jess Sturgeon, Louise Radford and Dave Charlesworth netting, and the Highwaymen beat Sainsbury's 3-0 thanks to Michiel Marck, Tom Griffiths and Will Daniels.

The Highwaymen topped Group 6, and the Privateers finished second in Group 5.

The start of phase two saw Credit Suisse and the Cheesemakers settling for a hard-fought 1-1 draw courtesy of strikes from James Easter and Sarah Hanley respectively.

Tayla O'Brien and Liam Veras celebrate winning British karate titles

BY PETER FAULKNER

KARATE kids Liam Veras and Tayla O'Brien once again produced their best when it mattered – at the British 4 Nations championships.

Tayla, 11, a Morpeth schoolgirl, from Bow, became British champion in the kumite -33kg, adding to her existing British Open and English titles.

The youngster owes her success to Terry Daly, her sensei at the Bethnal Green Uechi-Ryu club, where he took her on as a complete novice.

Tayla's mum Lisa said: "We are so proud of what she has achieved so far and Terry is just as proud.

"She has shown a real dedication to the sport and has ambitions to win at every level."

Liam finished the top competitor of the day with three gold medals and one silver making him a triple British champion.

His brothers, Luan and Luca, and their mum, Patricia Perote, also captured British titles.

On top of that the Veras Academy, run by dad Raphael with classes in Poplar, won a total of 18 medals and came fifth overall. The medals were for both kata and kumite.

Liam and Luca also won gold in the 9 years and under pairs kata as did Luan and team-mate Seyhan Cinar in the 10- to 13-year-old pairs kata.

Elite competitor Jasmine

Pomeroy brought back three silver medals and a bronze from her four events.

Ben Pomeroy, current England champion, also did a fantastic job to bring home a bronze medal to add to his collection.

Veras Academy's youngest and eldest competitors, Jack Walsh and Mette McLarney, also picked up medals.

Veras Academy Association

head, Sensei Raphael Veras, said: "With karate being a contender for acceptance into the Olympics, the event was closely scrutinised by Sport England officials who ensured that the highest levels of judging and refereeing were upheld.

"The competition was a tough one and I am extremely proud of all my team, those who won medals and those who didn't".

THE life and work of the first female press photographer, Christina Broom, is celebrated in a new exhibition at the Museum of London Docklands.

Broom took to the Edwardian London streets documenting daily routines and notable events. From First World War soldiers enjoying Christmas lunch and Suffragettes campaigning for women's rights, to Oxford Street bustling with horse-drawn carriages and the Oxford and Cambridge boat race, her candid approach, captured pivotal moments of cultural history. This major exhibition, the first entirely dedicated to her, will feature a cross-section of her work including many photographs that have previously been in private collections and never-before-seen on public display. These will be joined by glass plate negatives, postcards and objects which build a fuller picture of Broom's character and her career, including personal possessions, letters, event passes, autograph books, notebooks and cuttings books. Soldiers and Suffragettes runs from Friday, June 19 to Sunday, November 1 at Museum of London Docklands, Hertsmeare Road, West India Quay, E14. Open daily from 10am and admission is free. For information visit www.museumoflondon.org.uk

Bow Arts celebrates 20 years

BY MELANIE YEA

THIS year Bow Arts is celebrating its 20th anniversary and the annual open studios is set to be a highlight of the arts calendar and one of the most vibrant and well attended arts events in London.

Now in its 20th year, Bow Open Studios 2015 is set to be one of the biggest and the best opportunities for members of the public, curators and collectors to meet some of the best young artists working in London today.

The event will take place on Friday, June 19, 6-9pm, and Saturday, June 20, 1-5pm, and will feature more than 150 artists and designers, pop-up bars, local street food, a designer/maker market and live music.

There will be an exhibition of work from Bow Arts Education in the Carmelite Cafe and family workshops.

There will be a curated walking tour from 'Olympicopolis to Bow' on Saturday as part of the London Festival of Architecture 2015.

Gallery director, Rosamond Murdoch will also be holding curated studio tours throughout the weekend. This year will also see the return of the Bow Open Show to Nunnery Gallery with a private view on Friday, June 19.

Bow Open Show is an annual exhibition selecting the best work from more than 400 artists who currently hold studios, live and work spaces and carry out education projects with Bow Arts.

The exhibition is an important celebration of all the work that Bow Arts does throughout the year, and guest curators have been invited to select their choice of the work.

This year's guest curator is Dr Shahidha Bari, lecturer in Romanticism from Queen Mary University of London.

Shahidha will select from more than 400 artists with Ms Murdoch, to create a unique exhibition in the Nunnery Gallery.

Marcel Baettig, chief executive of Bow Arts said: "This year marks 20 years of the Bow Arts 'Open'. It has become a cherished staple of the art scene and every year the audiences get bigger and the standard of work continues to impress the public, collectors and curators alike.

"Nineteen years ago I was told that Open Studios were dead and that there was no interest, well nearly 100,000 visitors on I think we can say they are very much alive."

Ms Murdoch said: "I am thrilled to be hosting the Bow Open show back at Nunnery Gallery, the intimate setting of the former convent is perfect for showcasing the work of our immensely talented Bow Artists."

Get a Life!

IBSEN'S fantasy play Peer Gynt has been performed all over the world, and arrives at Canary Wharf's Roof Garden this June. An adventurous tale packed into a family-friendly hour of theatre, during which the audience will encounter folk tales, weddings and trolls. An off-shoot of Space Productions, the Roof Garden Players are the resident theatre company at the new Roof Garden performance space in Crossrail Place, Canary Wharf. Performances run Thursdays and Fridays, June 18 to 26 at 7pm, and Saturdays, June 20 and 27 at 2pm. The performances are free but booking is advisable. The Roof Garden Players will create the work in the open with interactive workshops designed to enable people to engage with, and help shape, the pieces.

There will be three strands of workshops and opportunities to create set and props with the designer, provide feedback and suggestions on the themes of the plays, and join the company as it works on different scenes. Adults' workshops run on Wednesdays, June 3, 16 and 30 at 7pm. These are practical sessions for theatre enthusiasts of any ability so they can engage with the subject matter of each of the pieces and take part in devising material for the shows. Family workshops run on Saturdays, June 13 and 27 and July 11 at 12noon. These sessions will include fun arts and crafts for all the family who can join the company as they make props, set and costumes. Roof Garden, Crossrail Place, North Dock, Canary Wharf, E14. Kites from Kabul

BY MELANIE YEA

IN Afghanistan's historic city of Kabul, the spring sunshine brings kite flyers out in their hundreds, and brightly coloured kites can be seen dotting the skyline. Kites from Kabul will bring this spectacle to London, with a display made by children in Murad Khani, the old city district of Kabul.

The display has been developed with the British charity Turquoise Mountain, one of the Prince's Charities, which works in Afghanistan. It opens at the V&A Museum of Childhood in Bethnal Green on Saturday, July 4, and runs until January 2016.

The entrance lobby at the museum will be transformed with a colourful display of paper kites in flight. The rich heritage of kite flying will be brought to life by photographs taken by Australian photojournalist Andrew Quilty in 2014 and 2015, at sites around Kabul and Bamian.

There will also be a video by film maker and writer Lalage Snow, giving a glimpse into the lives of children living in the old city.

Turquoise Mountain has been working in Afghanistan since 2006 to revive historic areas and traditional crafts, and has restored more than 100 historic and community buildings in the Murad Khani district.

It has also set up the Turquoise Mountain Institute for Afghan Arts and Architecture, which trains hundreds of young Afghans in traditional arts and crafts.

The kites in this display are the result of a collaboration between the children of Murad Khani and students from the institute.

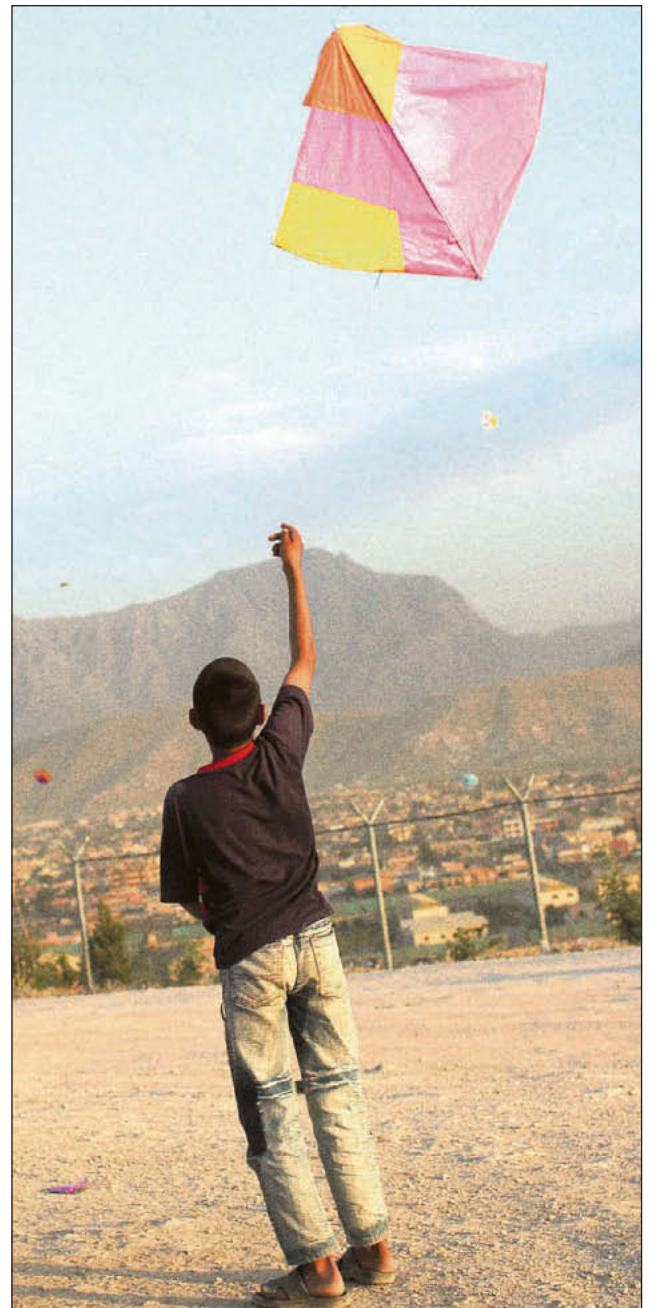

"Turquoise Mountain is delighted to be partnering with the V&A Museum of Childhood on this exhibition. Kite-flying is such an evocative symbol of childhood and freedom, and something that children and adults can relate to wherever they are in the world.

"We hope this exhibition will make its own small contribution to fostering a deeper understanding of Afghanistan, its people and culture, in the UK," said Dr Tommy Wide, managing director of Turquoise Mountain.

The V&A Museum of Childhood is in Cambridge Heath Road, Bethnal Green.

Admission is free and the museum is open daily from 10am to 5.45pm.

Make time for Tom

THE line-up for this year's Greenwich Music Time is now complete thanks to the addition of pop royalty in the shape of Tom Jones.

The charismatic Welsh singer joins ten-time Grammy Award winner George Benson, the multi-million-selling flamenco superstars Gipsy Kings, and legendary Kinks frontman Ray Davies on the bill for the five-day concert series, which returns to the Maritime Greenwich World Heritage Site on Thursday, July 23.

And due to phenomenal demand for tickets the Welsh superstar, whose hits Green, Green Grass of Home, What's New Pussycat and It's Not Unusual turned him into a singing superstar across the world, has announced he will perform an additional night on Monday, July 27.

Greenwich Music Time transforms the Old Royal Naval College's riverside location into the ultimate open-air venue, providing music fans with the opportunity to experience a unique series of concerts set against the stunning backdrop of the magnificent historic landscape.

Sir Tom said: "I'm really looking forward to performing at Greenwich Music Time this summer

"And it's great to be sharing the bill alongside such an esteemed group of artists.

"The Old Royal Naval College is a beautiful place to do a show and I'm sure it's going to be a really special occasion."

Peter Taylor of GMT organisers Cuffe & Taylor: "We have been blown away by the enthusiasm and excitement shown by the public following our announcement that Sir Tom will be performing as part of this year's Greenwich Music Time.

"It is of course testament to the enduring popularity of one of the UK's finest ever performers but also to the undeniable appeal of the location of our event. GMT has become a five-night event and is on its way to becoming one of the highlights of the summer live music calendar."

Tickets for Tom Jones' concert on Monday, July 27 are on sale now and are available from www.greenwichmusictime.co.uk or by calling 0844 499 9999.

Eating out, eating in

Nothing to beef about

BY AVARICIOUS ARCHIE

IT'S a sunny Sunday afternoon and I am doing a bit of bonding with my kid brother who, being the king of voucher deals, competitions etcetera had availed himself of a special offer for Smiths of Smithfield.

The offer gave us south Devon cote de boeuf and unlimited chips.

Normally sold by weight, on the day concerned we were given a kilo of meat cooked the way we like it – medium-rare, as suggested by our waiter. (Any less and the fat doesn't render down enough to be edible, according to our waiter.)

In the meantime my brother ordered the scallop starter and a Bloody Mary, a speciality we were informed, while I chose an alcohol-free cocktail.

The restaurant is the sibling to the meat lovers' destination Smiths of Smithfields.

Both are on four floors with a basement bar, ground floor café restaurant area, a more formal dining room on the first floor and a top floor private dining area.

Clearly they are very happy

Smiths of Smithfield offers exemplary service with the format and have replicated it in Spitalfields.

On the afternoon we were there it wasn't bursting at the seams, but that was to our benefit as the service was exemplary.

Our cocktails arrived and in my case was nice and, in my brother's case, excellent. Mine tasted fine without being exceptional but the Bloody Mary was special.

The main course arrived without fanfare, but it was so good that a fanfare should be made obligatory.

The cote de boeuf was served as a centrepiece with rocket and bernaise sauce and chips.

We also ordered a serving of polenta chips as we'd never had them before.

The meat was nothing short of perfection. Our very helpful waiter talked us through the cooking processes that were applied to our meat but they are too long and tortuous to include here.

Suffice it to say that they were ultimately too complicated to replicate at home and made the trip to this particular restaurant worth every penny.

The end result was a joint that was tender, succulent and almost melted in your mouth.

Even the burnt tips were tender.

It was clear that great care and attention had been taken not only in the sourcing of the produce (the provenance of all of the meat was front and centre on the menu) but also in its preparation.

The chips, both polenta and ordinary, were a delight and the perfect foil for the meat that was clearly the star of the show.

My brother also added a large glass of Merlot which he said helped wash the grand repast down admirably.

Smiths of Smithfields is at 109 Commercial Street, E1. Tel: 7251 7950

A tasty treat – and cheap too

THIS week's recipe comes from the Love Food Hate Waste website.

These tasty, cheap burgers are a good way to use up breadcrumbs and work equally well with some cooked vegetables or salad, or in a burger bun with all the trimmings.

All kinds of beans will work in this dish and the mixture can also be used to make sausages.

The burgers can be fried or baked – for baking put them on to a baking tray and cook for 15-20 minutes at 200°C/400°F.

Add fresh or dried herbs of your choice, or experiment with spices such as ground cumin and coriander.

The breaded burgers can be frozen – freeze them in a single layer on a tray and then pack them into a box to store.

The burgers are best baked from frozen as frying may not heat them through and defrosting before frying can make them soft and liable to break up in the pan.

Spicy carrot burgers – serves 8

Ingredients

4 medium carrots (250g/9oz), peeled and grated
2 x 400g/14oz tins of beans
1 large onion peeled and grated

2 eggs
1 tsp curry powder, garam masala or chilli powder
150g/5 fl oz fresh breadcrumbs
2 tbsp vegetable oil

Method

1. Fry the onions and carrots in a little oil until soft.
2. Drain, rinse and mash the beans. Put them into a mixing bowl and mix together with the carrot, onion, spices and one of the eggs.
3. Put the breadcrumbs on to a plate. Break the remaining egg into a bowl and whisk it to break it up.

4. Shape the burger mixture into eight patties. Dip each into the egg and then cover with breadcrumbs. Fry gently in the remaining oil until crisp and golden on both sides.

Frequently asked questions

1 Why two votes for one Mayor?

The law states the voting process for the Mayoral elections must be done this way. It allows you to say who would be your second choice for Mayor if your first choice is not in the top two after the first round of counting, and if there is not an outright majority winner at that stage.

2 How do I mark my vote?

Put a single X in each of the columns indicated. You have two votes – one for your first choice and one for your second choice of candidate.

3 What happens if I don't make a second choice vote?

Your first choice will still be counted.

4 What happens if I only make an X in the second choice column?

Your vote will not be counted.

5 What if I mark an X in the first choice column for more than one candidate?

Your vote will not be counted. If you wish to vote for two candidates then you must mark an X in column 1 for your first choice candidate and an X in column 2 for your second choice candidate.

6 When will the polling stations be open?

Polling stations will be open from 7am-10pm. The location of your polling station is printed on your poll card.

7 I have lost my poll card, can I get another one?

If you are on the register, you don't need a poll card to vote. You can attend the polling station and staff there will help you. The poll card is just to inform you that there is an election and explain where your polling station is located.

8 When will the votes be counted?

The votes will be counted after the close of poll on Thursday 11 June 2015. The Returning Officer will declare who has been elected as Mayor of Tower Hamlets and who has been elected as Councillor for Stepney Green Ward. The results will be published on the council's website.

For help on finding your polling station, please call our elections helpline on: 020 7364 0872 or visit www.towerhamlets.gov.uk/vote

Don't give away your vote!

- ✓ It is important that you do not let anyone else take your vote or pressurise you to vote in a particular way.
- ✓ If you vote at the polling station, you must take the ballot paper from the clerk and go into a polling booth to cast your vote in secret. Do not let anyone else touch your ballot paper and by law, no other adult may go into the polling booth with you.
- ✓ If you are a postal voter, make sure you complete the postal voting statement and ballot paper yourself, place the completed documents into envelope 'B' and post straight away.
- ✓ You must not give the ballot paper or postal voting pack to anyone else to complete on your behalf. Anyone who completes another person's ballot paper is committing an offence.

Returning Officer's plans to prevent fraud

The June election in Tower Hamlets will have some of the most robust processes to prevent fraud.

A local protocol to ensure a free and fair election and help to establish trust in the electoral system has been drawn up by the main agencies involved in running the election.

The protocol makes it clear that the Metropolitan Police and Tower Hamlets Council take electoral fraud extremely seriously and will investigate all allegations of irregularities robustly, promptly and fully.

If you are concerned that your vote may be subject to fraud, contact: THElections@towerhamlets.gov.uk or call 020 7364 0872 with the details.
